Secrecy at Bottom No Good When Top Is Wide Open

An ex-Army officer got on the radio last Friday night and told the American people that during the war the late Harry Hopkins personally expedited shipments of atomic materials from the United States to Russia.

The officer, former Captain G. Racy Jordan, made the statement during an appearance on the program of Fulton Lewis, Jr. Jordan said he was stationed at Great Falls, Mont., as a security officer on the Lend-Lease air route through Fairbanks, Alaska.

So far the only corroborative testimony comes from a Denver (Col.) manufacturer who recalls shipping uranium under government orders on the same route at the same time mentioned by Jordan.

But elsewhere, like all national exposures, the story has raised a fierce controversy.

For if atomic bomb material was put through to the Russians on the order of Harry Hopkins, the obvious fact is that Hopkins got his order in turn from the late President Roosevelt.

But we ought to get together one united policy whether the atom bomb is concerned.

It is ridiculous to have the FBI chasing alleged small-time spies while the No. 1 military secret was being given by top-level American officials.

And it is ridiculous to even think about the atom bomb being the weapon solely of the United States when its use was voluntarily turned over to the Russians by our duly authorized commanders.

Perhaps this uproar is all to the good. At least now we know where we are.

Growers to Vote on Market Quotas

County Production and Marketing Administration Committees are beginning this week the preparation of the National cotton marketing quota referendum to be held in every cotton growing community in the United States on Thursday, December 15.

A preliminary estimate by the County PMA office in Hempstead county indicates that around 2600 cotton growers will be eligible to vote in Hempstead county.

Earl N. Martindale, county PMA committee chairman, says that about 20 polling places will be set up in the county to make it as convenient as possible for all growers to participate.

Meanwhile, work is continuing in the county office on data gathered from farmers during the past several weeks under which individual farm acreage allotments will be based. Mr. Martindale is unable to say at this time when allotment notices will be ready for mailing, but they will be advised of their allotment by the referendum date.

Marketing quotas for the 1950 cotton crop were proclaimed by Secretary of Agriculture Charles F. Brannan on December 13, when it became apparent that cotton supplies for the current marketing year would exceed the normal supply by a wide margin. To become effective, however, quotas must be approved by two-thirds of the growers voting in the coming referendum.

Joint Legion Meeting Is Planned

The Moore-Harris American Legion Post No. 279 and the Legion Auxiliary at Blevins will meet Wednesday night December 7 at 6:30 o'clock in a joint meeting. The meeting will open with a Sing Song by the group.

Business sessions for both the Legion and the Auxiliary will follow the discussion. A "feed" of some nature is being arranged by the Food Committee of the Auxiliary to be served after the meeting. All members of both groups are urged to be present.

The Post recently began work on the building of a new Legion Hut. The foundation was poured last week after a ground-breaking ceremony and the turning of the first sod by Post Commander Leo Wilford. Part of the material is on the ground and work is expected to continue this week.

Nationalists Pulling Out of Chengtu

By The Associated Press
The Chinese nationalist government appeared today to be pulling out of Chengtu — its capital for less than a week, and the third since Nanking fell to the communists.

A special dispatch to the Hong Kong newspaper Sing Tao Man O said government officials assembled at the Chengtu airport before dawn for air transport to Formosa, island fortress 100 miles off the south central China coast.

The nationalists have chartered planes belonging to retired U. S. Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault for the airlift, the report said.

Red troops, meanwhile, rolled on toward Chengtu after taking Chungking, the provisional capital only last Wednesday. Chengtu became the nationalist capital then.

The new moves came a few hours after Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, nationalist leader, said the government would fight against the communists, despite defeat on all sides.

Czechoslovakia's Roman Catholic bishops — in a new gesture of defiance against the communist government's church control laws — warned a religious fight may result if the states does not modify its stand.

The bishops announced they could not submit to laws which they declared violate the laws of God and destroy religious freedom.

The warning was made in a 2,200 word letter, dated Nov. 17 and made public yesterday. The bishops called on the government to reconsider the laws of Nov. 1 and decrees issued under it "and to revise them so as to be in agreement with the constitution of the church."

They also warned the state would be responsible for any religious fight that might arise. There are 9,000,000 Catholics among Czechoslovakia's 13,000,000 population. The church control law, adopted by parliament Oct. 14 over strong Catholic objections, applies to all denominations.

May to Start Serving Time Today

Ashland, Ky., Dec. 5 —(AP)—Andrew J. May, complaining of his heart and protesting his innocence to the last moment, became a federal prisoner for wartime bribery and conspiracy today.

The 44-year-old former chairman of the powerful house military affairs committee succeeded in slipping—without fault—into the federal correction institution near here before daylight with the help of his personal friend John M. Moore of Lexington, U. S. marshal for Eastern Kentucky.

May and Murray operators of a wartime munitions combine, were convicted July 3, 1947, for using for profit May's considerable influence as committee chairman.

The former congressman, himself, was accused of accepting more than $50,000 in bribes for getting war department favors for the Garsons.

Moore had denied to newsmen last night that he had received any commitment order for the ex-congressman.

First word that May had succeeded in a cat-and-mouse game with newsmen keeping watch on him came from Warden R. O. Culbertson of the prison.

He announced: "He (May) was admitted at 6:30 a.m. He was brought here by U. S. Marshal John M. Moore."

May's attorney said May was within the prison walls.

"He (May) met me just as his attorney said he would."

The marshal added that the meeting took place in Callettsburg, where the preliminary hearing, the prison is located, at 6:10 a.m. and they drove immediately to the institution.

ALASKA TO MAINE VIA DOGSLED—ON a 5,000-mile dogsled trail, from Fairbanks, Alaska, to Lewiston, Me., is letter-carrier Cecil A. Moore, right. Fairbanks postmaster Maude H. Boyle, left, gives Moore one of 12,000 letters bearing a special Alaska commemorative stamp, which he plans to mail back from Maine. Along the way, Moore will pick up cabled envelopes from 25 cities, which will be sold in an effort to raise a $200,000 fund for underprivileged children.

Santa's Envoy Writes to Boys, Girls

Dear boys and girls:

It sure was fun meeting and talking to so many of you in Hope on Friday and Saturday. I'm sorry I didn't get to see even more of you, but I will be downtown every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday afternoons and on every Saturday morning between now and Christmas and I want you to all come and see me. You can tell me what you want Santa to bring you and I will see that Santa gets your message. If you want to you can write a letter to Santa and mail it or give it to me. We want every boy and girl to contact Santa soon so that he will know that you really think of him and want him to come before Christmas.

I talked with Santa this morning and he was very pleased to see all of you in Hope last Thursday night. He is trying to get all his work done so that he can come and talk with all of you before Christmas, but he is so very busy right now and we all do want him to finish before Christmas don't we?

All of the stores in Hope are really ready for Christmas. I have visited a great many of them and they are just loaded with all kinds of pretty things. Why don't you have Mother and Dad bring you to Hope so you can see all these things and you can see me too and we'll talk about Christmas. I have some candy for you, too, that Santa left for me to give to all the good boys and girls I meet in downtown Hope.

It won't be long now, so you'd better hurry and write that letter to Santa, or tell me so that Santa will know. Be good boys and girls — and be sure and come and see me.

Won't Be Long Before American Men Will Be Showered With Many Unwelcome Neckties

By HAL BOYLE
New York —(AP)—There ought to be a society to prevent the presentation of neckties as Christmas gifts.

But there isn't. So again this year some 50,000,000 or more writhing American males will be showered with an unwelcome collection of tonsil muffers.

Women insist on giving men ties, and they pick them on one of two principles:

1. As if they were buying draperies.
2. As if they were selecting a lining for their husband's coffin.

What can be done about this annual misery?

Well, the cowardly way out is to go ahead and wear the things, sinking about like a self-conscious version of a marriage between a Yankee and the northern lights.

But there are bolder ways out for men who still pride themselves on rugged individualism. A simple exit for the problem is merely stuff the ties down the nearest incinerator, or bribe the janitor to take them.

These techniques, however, show little imagination. A little survey I made disclosed several more original methods of dealing with this plague.

"I am saving mine up until I have enough to hang Santa Claus," one angry gentleman roared.

Another man said he had found it easy to cure his wife of giving him neckties.

"I just started wearing them with my tuxedo," he said. "She didn't talk to me for a week that bad!" But she hasn't given him a tie since.

A bachelor of my acquaintance, on the other hand, stoutly insists he

Hike Expected Soon in Price of Steel

Pittsburgh, Dec. 5 (AP).—Some steel prices almost certainly will increase soon, says an industry spokesman.

The spokesman, who asked that his name not be used, declared in my mind that some adjustments are rising. And he added all steel companies are surveying the situation with an eye to price adjustments.

"It may not be a general increase but it is almost certain in my mind that some adjustments will be necessary on some lines," the spokesman declared.

His remarks came on the heels of a statement from the head of the nation's fourth largest steel producer which left little doubt of a price hike.

Declaring that production costs are rising, Admiral Ben Moreell, chairman of the board and president of Jones and Laughlin Steel Corporation, declared:

"It becomes crystal clear that the increased costs for raw materials, for services and for labor which only after the most careful study must be balanced by corresponding increases in prices."

"What form this revision will take and the particular products to which it will apply, and the amount of increases, should be determined only after the most careful study of costs and the present and prospective demand for our products."

A spokesman for U. S. Steel corporation, world's largest producer, had no comment on Moreell's statement.

However, a spokesman for Republic Steel corporation said the firm is presently "involved in a careful study of the whole price picture to determine what changes in price are called for."

U. S. Economy Bright, Danger Is Discounted

Washington, Dec. 5 —(AP)—Warnings of inflation are fluttering again in the capital, but most of the economic outlooks discount any immediate peril. They see fairly steady, prosperous sailing throughout 1950.

President Truman is not expected to revive his demands of a year ago for drastic "standby" anti-inflation powers. This is despite the use in credit to new peaks, the firming of prices, and the fall improvement in business and employment.

Government economists and some private experts report the revival of an "inflationary" potential. They base the report mainly on heavy in-the-red spending by the government and on the new round of wage-and-pension increases.

Yet few of them expect a major price whirl in the next 12 months. "The inflation" is not over for some immediate industries. Many economists believe the long-range hazard is deflation.

A consensus of the forecasts might boil down to this:

1950 will be another year of high income and high production, on a level of prosperity not unlike 1949 and not far below record-smashing 1948.

Inflation warnings have been uttered by two bank presidents and other witnesses before Senate Douglas' (D-Ill.) economic subcommittee. These have stirred speculation whether Mr. Truman will again seek controls over prices, wages, commodity trading and materials allocation.

The decision, it is not already made, will come in the next month as the President prepares his annual economic message to the new session of congress.

Persons in close touch with White House planning say a new bid for controls is unlikely and, even if one comes, would be turned down by congress.

This view is voiced by Senator Flanders of Vermont, a Republican manufacturer and a member of the senate-house economic committee who usually votes with the Democratic majority.

"I don't see any reason for any inflation controls at all at this time, think we're on a pretty even keel right now."

Band Directors Form District Clinic Plans

Band directors of the Southwest District, Arkansas School Band & Orchestra Association met yesterday afternoon in the band building at Hope High school and made final plans for the band clinics and festivals to be held during the coming months.

Events, places, and dates were decided at the Junior High Clinic which opened at Magnolia; Senior clinic, February 3-4 at Arkadelphia; District Festival, April 7 at DeQueen.

Last year the Junior High Clinic was held at Magnolia. The 65-piece band was selected by the clinic committee from applications sent in from some 22 bands, representing towns in this district. Members were chosen on a basis of excellence and ability. It is expected that the same policy will be followed this year with the exception that larger bands will be formed. The senior clinic bands may include players in any school grade, but the Junior clinic bands will include players only from the ninth grade or below.

Ruell Oliver, district chairman, presided at the meeting. Band directors present in addition to Mr. Oliver included, John Harding, Hot Springs; Mrs. John Glenn, Murfreesboro; Adam West, Magnolia; Gene Witherspoon, DeQueen; Penn Tucker, Malvern; Wallace Van Sickle, Texarkana; L. J. Steele, Ashdown; Bill Harris, Arkadelphia; Charles Sheets, Arkadelphia (high school); Albert Cothran, Sparkman; and G. T. Cannon, Hope.

Yerger Host to District Association

The Southwest District Teachers Association No. 3 will convene Friday, December 9, at Yerger High school, with President, G. S. Ivory, presiding.

The main feature of the program for the morning session will be the departmental meetings composed of the Visual Education reading, community problems and guidance. Each section will have a lecturer from the district and a consultant from the State Department of Education.

For the afternoon, the program will include a summarization of departmental meetings which will be made by the various consultants and music. The main address will be delivered by John H. White, president of Arkansas Teachers Association followed by remarks by Ed McCusker and C. A. Hicks of the State Department of Education.

Miners Start 3-Day Work Week

Pittsburgh, Dec. 5 —(AP)—The nation's soft coal mines were back in business today after one of the briefest strikes in that industry's history.

The 480,000 United Mine Workers already hardhit financially by three previous 4949 walkouts—promptly began to fill the mines at 12:01 a. m. (Eastern Standard Time) under a new three-day work schedule ordered by their union chief, John L. Lewis.

The big 7 a. m. shifts reported in strength in Western Pennsylvania's rich bituminous regions. There were no reports of a continuation of last week's overnight strike.

In the nine days before Christmas, each can earn about $139.50. That's based on their average daily wages of $15.50.

That, with some back pay they have coming for work done before last week, means they'll enjoy Christmas. Even if some diggers are broke or short of money, company stores guarantee they can buy food and toys for Christmas.

Though the miners are happy over prospects of working, most of them are anxious to get back on a five-day week. It's almost certain Lewis won't order such a week until he has finally reached a contract with industry. And top operators show no indication of giving in.

Top operators haven't budgeted since their contract ran out last June 30. They maintain they can't afford to increase wages. And they want Lewis to tighten up the welfare and pension fund which has been financed entirely by the 20-cent-a-ton royalty the operators pay for coal mined.

The only report of a break in the stalemate has come from a small group of small Kentucky operators. They are truck mine operators who employ only about 600 diggers.

It is reported the Kentuckians are considering signing a contract with Lewis this week. If they do, they'll go on a five-day week. The truck operators insist they have to work a full week to break even.

Hoover to Push New Economy Drive

Washington, Dec. 5 —(AP)—Herbert Hoover is coming back to Washington to push along a new drive to reorganize the government as a step toward economy.

The Republican former president will spend next Monday night before the National Reorganization conference. His theme will be one that some GOP party members are voicing as a rallying cry for the 1950 congressional campaign: "Let's cut the excess spending and high taxes are threatening the existence of the republic."

Speaking at a non-Partisan forum, Hoover is expected to stick to his main topic that widespread savings can be made by reorganization of the government.

In a preview of his speech in New York last week, however, he covered a broader field. He said that the principal danger to the republic lies in the attitude of many groups in the country who think they ought to be fed by the government instead of making a living for themselves.

This is a sort of thing Senator Taft (R-Ohio) has been talking about in attacks on the "hand-out state" which he says is the Truman administration's sin. Mr. Taft, the GOP national chairman, varied his theme by calling it a "poorhouse state."

Hoover said economy in government is a practice, not a theory. He is likely to find a difference of opinion in Washington over how much economy is overdone.

Senator O'Mahoney, (D-Wyo.), who agrees that wasteful spending ought to be eliminated, said it'd a lot easier to talk about cutting the budget than to do it.

Wounded Farmer Accused in Fatal Shooting

Marshall, Dec. 5 —(AP)—State Police Sgt. W. D. Walker said today charges would be filed against a wounded farmer accused of shooting Sheriff Doyle Smith, 51, of Seary county in an exchange of pistol shots in the business section of Marshall.

The farmer, Roy Bryan, 41, was shot in the chest by a .45 calibre pistol bullet. He was arrested near his home yesterday several hours after the shooting.

Bryan's son, Bill, 17, was nicked in the arm during the firing. He was in an automobile when the shooting broke out.

Sergeant Walker said shots were exchanged between Sheriff Smith and Bryan after the officer had ordered the farmer "to leave town or stop drinking."

Sheriff Smith suffered a bullet wound in his side. His condition is not serious.

Ex-Pilot Tells of Ferry Job

Cincinnati, O., Dec. 5 —(UP)—A former officer in the army ferrying command revealed today that he flew heavy earth-filled crates toward a Soviet destination during World War II.

Ben L. Brown, 27, who served as a first lieutenant in the ferrying command at Great Falls, Mont., during the war, told his story after hearing that George Racy Jordan, former air force major, had charged in Washington that 1,650 pounds of raw uranium were jammed into black suitcases and flown to Russia in lend-lease planes. Jordan's story is now being studied by the FBI and a congressional committee.

"I saw the suitcases and briefcases, but it was the crates and the careful manner in which Russian officers guarded them that attracted my attention," Brown said.

He said he made "at least six" crate-carrying flights from Great Falls in the latter part of 1944.

"Two heavily armed Russians entered the C-47 cargo transport planes and sat or slept on the crates until we arrived at Fairbanks, Alaska," he said. "I saw the crates and the 2,000-mile hop they wouldn't leave the plane cabin."

The guards, Brown said, carried 45-caliber automatics and sub-machine guns.

The ex-lieutenant said he learned the nature of the contents of the crates when one of them dropped and partially shattered.

"It was a black, earth-like material," he said.

Both C-47 and fighter planes were flown to the Alaskan base for delivery to the Russians on lend-lease during the period. Soviet pilots took over in Fairbanks. The crates and suitcases were crated in the donated planes, Brown said.

"I thought at first the crates contained spare plane parts," Brown continued. "But I couldn't help wondering why they were watched so closely. And when the earth spilled, I knew better."

Contributions Aid Victims of Dormitory Fire

Norman, Okla., Dec. 5 —(AP)—Most of the survivors of the University of Oklahoma men's dormitory fire, burned three to seven injured 21 early Saturday will be able to attend school as usual today.

Thanks to the generosity of thousands, they are clothed again, have new books, are eating regularly and live in a brick dormitory. The two-story wooden structure they occupied, a former navy barracks, caught fire at 2:45 a. m. Saturday, and was razed within an hour and a half.

The tragic news drew an immediate response of cash donations and clothing. The Red Cross was giving a $150 clothing allotment to the 340 survivors, many of whom escaped only in pajamas or underwear.

One Oklahoma City church contributed $1,000. University students gave books and food.

Survivors testifying at a hearing yesterday failed to indicate a cause of the blaze. A coroner's jury ruled the fire's origin was unknown and found no negligence by anyone in connection with it. Damage was estimated by Dr. George L. Cross, university president, at about $500,000.

The 13 remaining hospitalized, including two in critical condition, were reported somewhat improved.

Those who died were Maurice Ahearn, 26, Killingsworth, Conn., credited with saving several lives before being trapped; Sammy LaRue, 20, Clinton, Okla., and Price Starks, 20, Oklahoma City.

Mrs. F. Cox, 79, Dies in Hope Hospital

Cecil Wallace, Lively Child Die in Hospital

Two persons were killed and three others seriously injured about 12:30 p.m. today when an automobile and a truck collided on the Blevins road. Both died shortly after reaching a local hospital.

The dead are Cecil L. Wallace, 55, of Hope, and John Lewis Lively, aged about 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Lively of Crossroads community who were seriously injured. A second child, Robert Edward, is also critically injured. The younger son is injured.

Driver of the truck, Bill Cooley of Mineral Springs, was not seriously hurt.

The Lively's were riding with Mr. Wallace who was taking them to look over some land he owned in the old Southwestern. Proving ground. The truck was engaged in hauling gravel to Highway No. 4, which is under repair.

State Policemen Downing and Murphy are investigating the accident. Both vehicles were practically demolished.

Cooley is being held pending further investigation.

Tenant Can Be Picked Says FHA

Washington, Dec. 5 —(AP)—The FHA guides the new anti-discrimination policy on government financing of homes with no regard to property owner from picking the tenant he wants.

Non-discrimination is the new rule. The new rule is expected to go into effect in about 60 days. It will ban Federal Housing Administration mortgage loans on properties with restrictive covenants are placed on record after the effective date.

The policy was announced last Friday by Solicitor General Philip B. Perlman, with authorization of President Truman. Confusion arose over how it will operate.

In an attempt to clarify the situation, FHA Commissioner Franklin D. Richards sent explanatory statements to FHA field offices for the guidance.

The aim, Richards said, is to bring the government's policies in line with Supreme court decisions that, although individuals may be free to impose or comply with restrictive racial covenants, government support of covenants is contrary to the public policy and they cannot be enforced in court.

Richards said the new rules will apply only to new mortgages, which are subject to restrictive covenants are filed on record after the effective date set.

2. "Require the mortgagee to certify that until the restrictive mortgage is paid in full or the contract of (mortgage) insurance otherwise terminated, he will not file for record any restriction upon the sale or occupancy of the mortgaged property, on the basis of race, creed or color or executive agreement, lease or conveyance which imposes any such restriction upon its sale or occupancy."

Bachelor Wins Fight to Recover $54,000

Little Rock, Dec. 5 — (AP) — An elderly Missouri bachelor today won his fight to recover $54,000 cash left by his dead brother.

The court upheld the claim of Antonius Eibler of near Ludlow, Mo., against his former neighbors Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Baker, who asserted Eibler's late brother, Charles, gave them the money as a gift.

The unanimous opinion, written by Associate Justice Robert A. Loflar, affirmed Pulaski Chancellor Frank Dodge in awarding Antonius Eibler judgment for the $54,000 against the Bakers.

At trial of the case in the lower court the Bakers testified that Charles Eibler on Dec. 19, 1945, gave Baker $1200 and 120 $1,000 bills — telling them that half of it was to be held for Antonius and that the remainder was a gift.

Two days earlier, Charles had willed all his property to Antonius. Charles died Jan. 9, 1946.

The Supreme court noted that the Eiblers were "elderly and poor persons" and "wealthy and a rural mail carrier, and his wife befriended the brothers after they moved near their home and often cared for them when they were ill."

The $54,000 judgment represents the $60,000 the Bakers claimed as a gift less $6,000 they had paid as a tax while the case was in court.

Well, there we have a situation which gives pause for consideration. There is a real possibility of a conflict between political and military thought. There are differences of opinion in some important quarters as to whether Germany should be rearmament in the interests of general peace.

The political viewpoint broadly speaking has been that German disarmament is essential to the maintenance of peace. This thesis has been strongly supported by the French who have suffered so grievously from invasion in the two world wars.

The expressed military viewpoint Germany should be rearmament defensively.

The arguments for rearmament Germany rest mainly on two points: (1) The Germans admittedly are among the world's best fighting men. (2) If there is another general European war Germany is likely to be the cockpit.

Fires Bring Death to 2 in Arkansas

By The Associated Press

At least two persons lost their lives in an outbreak of fires in Arkansas over the weekend.

An army recruit, Jewell D. Brady, 33, of Bogalusa, La., was burned fatally when fire spread through the administration building at Camp Chaffee, Ark., Saturday night. He died in a camp hospital Sunday.

Miss Minnie Hackney, about 60, perished when flames destroyed her farm house near Carlisle, Saturday.

At least two business establishments were destroyed and four were damaged by flames which broke out on Port Smith's main business street late Saturday night. No one was injured. Firemen battled the blaze for more than 1-2 hours before bringing it under control.

The fire started in the second floor of Doc Miller's photographic studio and spread to an adjoining building housing the Lamon's Flower shop. Both were gutted.

Other businesses, including a furniture store, beauty shop, clothing store, were damaged either by flames or smoke and water. The home of Raymond Hartzog was destroyed by flames at Smackover Saturday night. Fire Chief William Alspaugh said the home, a complete loss, was valued at between $30,000 and $40,000.

Chief Alspaugh said firemen battled the blaze for more than six hours. Owners of the house were away at the time.

Man Held for Slaying Child Sweetheart

Whippany, N. J., Dec. 4 — (UP) — Ralph Coolack, 35, charged with killing his childhood sweetheart and her husband in a local tavern, said today she killed him after he had been away $1,500 he sent her while he was overseas in the army.

Police said Coolack confessed killing Arthur Poole, 30, and his 29-year-old bride, Irene, in a fit of rage when he met the couple by chance in the barroom Saturday night.

He also was accused of wounding Bartender Homer Luhman, 44, who tried to halt the tragedy by throwing a bottle at him. Luhman was souvenir master pistol.

Police said Coolack brooded over his broken romance and demanded

Pine Bluff, Dec. 5 — (UP) — A student at the Monticello A. and M. college was held under an open charge today in connection with an accident which killed a 19-year-old Pine Bluff girl near here yesterday.

The victim was Miss Elmer Rean Fikes, also a student at the college. State troopers said the girl was a passenger in a car which overturned in a ditch near Fordyce, Smith was booked on an open charge, released and ordered to appear in the office of Prosecuting Attorney Henry Smith on Wednesday.

State Trooper Ed Coward said Smith's car left the road about 20 miles west of here on highway 81, plowed about 115 feet through a ditch and overturned. Smith had three other Monticello students riding in the car were not hurt.

The five young people had attended a dance at Monticello before starting their trip to this city.

Search Starts for Missing Students

Miami, Fla., Dec. 5 — (UP) — A coast guard swamp buggy left here today to search for six high school students who failed to return from a hunting trip in the Everglades yesterday.

The group, all students of St. Theresa Catholic High of Coral Gables, left on the trip Friday and were to have returned at noon yesterday. Their car was found parked Sunday night near 40-mile bend of the Tamiami trail where they were supposed to have entered the Everglades in a swamp buggy one of the party owned.

The missing students included Dee Strong, a star high school football player, Dick Houghton, A. J. Rourke, Graham Tyson, James Briggs and Bob Solly.

Coolack said the husband told him to "get out of here or I'll get my gang after you" whereupon he pulled out his pistol and began shooting. Pool and his bride of 15 months fell with bullet wounds in their heads and died several hours later.

A bystander disarmed Coolack, of Morristown, N. J., and police charged him with two counts of murder and one of atrocious assault. He was held without bail for grand jury action.

Nerve Goes, Youth Fails to End Life

Evansville, Ind., Dec. 5 — (UP) — A 22-year-old bespectacled college student claimed today that he killed his beautiful 16-year-old sweetheart with a hammer in a suicide pact at her request but failed to take his own life when his "last nerve cracked."

Franklin Thomas Slay, Griffin, Ind., sat in his jail cell here and read detective story magazines after confessing to the hammer slaying of Mary Ellen Harmon, Nov. 30 near Hopkinsville, Ky., about 90 miles south of here.

He said he backed down on his half of the suicide pact when he lost his nerve as he stood on a nearby bridge, poised to leap.

An autopsy on the girl's body was scheduled for today. Slay told reporters the girl was pregnant.

Truman Drafting Three Important Messages

Key West, Fla., Dec. 5 — (AP) — President Truman bolstered his vacation staff today to get down to drafting work on his three important messages to congress.

John R. Steelman, assistant to the president, is flying down from Washington with "written suggestions" from cabinet and other officials.

Charles S. Murphy, administrative assistant and one of the Gerald L. Dearing, called "the rising crescendo of complaints."

Brannan will address the national group tomorrow. A speech by Knox T. Hutchinson, assistant secretary, was on the opening day's program.

White House legislative experts, and George Elsey, another administrative assistant who does a lot of the research and writing for the President also are coming.

They will work with Mr. Truman and special Counsel Clark M. Clifford on:

The "state of the union" message the President will deliver to congress in person, the budget message and the economic message which will follow it.

Mr. Truman will continue his daily swims and sunbaths for the remainder of the visit, Ross said.

The chief executive is tanned and rested. He told reporters he was "feeling fine."

ULTRA (meaning the last word) MATIC (meaning fully automatic) — there's never been anything like Packard Ultramatic Drive

IMPARTIAL, independent technical observers gave us the idea for the name... They reviewed the basic principles of this new Packard automatic drive... heard about the 16-year development and test program behind it. They drove it themselves... compared its performance with that of other leading types of drives. Then, out of their own experience, they told us:

"The best way to describe this Packard drive is to say it's the last word in automatic, no-shift control!"

★ New simplicity: Naturally, there's no clutch pedal. And that's only the first hint of the convenience of Packard Ultramatic Drive! There's nothing new to learn. Just step on the gas, and steer!

★ New economy: Ultramatic Drive saves gas—because there's no slippage at cruising speeds. And thanks to its advanced design, Packard Ultramatic Drive requires no complicated maintenance.

★ More responsive: No lag, at traffic speeds or highway speeds, waiting for gears to shift. For instant bursts of safety-sprint acceleration—just "tramp down."

★ New safety: No chance of involuntary unexpected "down-shifts," which might cause a prolonged skid on slippery pavement. Packard Ultramatic Drive gives you smooth, gradual engine braking power for safe deceleration.

★ More positive, more flexible: Your choice of high-range, or low-range operation—with rapid acceleration, and slippage-free cruising, in each range. Easy shift from forward to reverse. Yes, you can rock the drive in snow!

Come in for your introductory drive!

SWC Coaches Disappointed in Irish

Dallas, Tex., Dec. 5 — (UP) — Sideline photographers who did a little eavesdropping said today that Notre Dame's fighting Irish might be more aptly named the "Crying Irish."

This was one of the many comments which poured forth in the wake of the 27-20 squeak Notre Dame scored over Southern Methodist Saturday. Although the Irish thus finished their fourth consecutive season without a defeat, setting a new record, their detractors were many.

One veteran photographer, who roamed the sidelines in front of the Irish bench in pursuit of his duties, said: "Why those guys were crying at every decision of the officials, and not just the ones even the fans thought might be in error."

SMU got as many bad breaks as the Irish on decisions, but they were way behind on the squawking.

Southwest conference coaches who saw the game from the grandstand were not overly impressed by the Notre Dame might.

Blair Cherry of Texas said he didn't think Notre Dame could keep up such a pace if it played a full Southwest conference schedule. He pointed out that the Irish were played almost to a standstill by an SMU team which lost three conference games this season.

Frank Leahy, coach of the South Bend, Ind., team which now has gone 38 games without a loss, told players yesterday, "go to church and thank God for your victory over Southern Methodist."

Leahy said the new spread and triple wingback formations uncovered by the Irish for the special or this game baffled his team. But he was quick to add he never thought Notre Dame would lose, not even when SMU's "Kolossal Kyle" Rote banged over with his third touchdown to tie the score at 20-20.

Mat Bell, the SMU mentor, admitted he thought at this point his team might win. "But it just was not in the books, I guess," he added.

There was a strange parallel between the game Saturday and Notre Dame's last game of the 1948 season. In '48 the Irish also were unbeaten in their final contest, and heavily favored to Southern California.

Leahy Loses Many of Star Players

Dallas, Dec. 5 — (AP) — Notre Dame's gridiron champions are on the way home boasting the greatest four-year record in Fighting Irish history — but take it from Coach Frank Leahy, they accomplished it in the nick of time.

Leahy, who lamely that rugged individualism among pessimists, his team can't hope to be half as strong as the 1949 outfit which he called "the greatest team I ever coached."

Happy that they were able to finish four seasons without defeat while winning 36 games and tying two, the Irish still are talking about the thunderous game they had here Saturday.

Leahy said the Irish were "a team of champions" and that they had "a lot of heart." He said the Irish were "a team of champions" and that they had "a lot of heart."

SPORTS ROUNDUP

By Hugh S. Fullerton, Jr.

New York, Dec. 5 — (AP) — If you've ever wondered why hockey never fulfilled its promise of becoming a real, big-league sport, Frank Boucher reluctantly admits it's because there aren't enough good players to go around.

That's not exactly the way Frank puts it, but he can pick out three to five players on each National Hockey League team he terms outstanding stars ("and no quotes, please; the other teams might get mad at me").

And each team is carrying four or five players just good enough to hang on, who would be replaced if better players could be found.

If the league tried to expand, it would mean each team would have to carry more of these ineffectives.

Frank Boucher, who has coached the New York Rangers for 10 years, says that the boys who are playing junior hockey look like juveniles.

Even with 28 clubs to draw from, the minor league prospects aren't any better than the ones we have.

Baylor May Play Post Season Game

San Diego, Calif., Dec. 5 — (AP) — College of the Pacific and Baylor may play in the Harbor bowl here Dec. 31.

Murkin Flagg, bowl chairman, said the two teams, which are having difficulties obtaining a stadium, will reach agreement tonight and he quoted President Walter Knox of COP as saying:

"There's better than a fifty-fifty chance that COP and Baylor will play in the Harbor bowl Dec. 31."

Knox told Flagg, however, that no contract will be signed until 7 p. m. (CST), tonight.

Brinkley Gets Public Library as a Gift

Brinkley, Dec. 2 — (P) — Brinkley will have a public library building as the result of a gift from William B. Folsom, 80-year-old retired newspaper publisher.

Folsom has donated his two story home to the city as the Harriet H. and William Folsom memorial library.

The former publisher will continue to live in the house until his death. Then it goes to the city under an irrevocable deed of trust.

C. Hamilton Moses, Little Rock utility executive; Charles Partee, superintendent of Brinkley schools, and W. W. Sharp, Brinkley lawyer, were named trustees.
Folsom said he and his wife, who died in 1948, designed the house with the thought of eventually giving it to the city.

Folsom is a former president of the Arkansas Press association and printed the Brinkley Argus for many years until his retirement in 1948.

Folsom received national recognition with his "Arkansas on Wheels" train, which he sponsored in 1940. The train had six cars filled with Arkansas products and

Death Comes to Slippery Fugitive

Rule, Neb., Dec. 5 — (P) — William Dunkin, as slippery a fugitive as ever cracked a police net, is dead.

A Kansas trooper's guns felled him yesterday, 11 days after the Omaha man escaped from the Nebraska penitentiary in Lincoln.

Luck ran out for Dunkin about 10 a. m. at the edge of this tiny southeast Nebraska corner town after a wild chase over dusty country roads in the adjoining Kansas area.

Dunkin's car, probably the tenth he had stolen in his mad desperate travels, overturned at the edge of town.

Kansas state Patrolman W. W.
Smith, leading the pursuit, pulled up about 50 feet away and ordered the 36 year old convict to "put your hands up and come on out."

Dunkin answered with gunfire and the battle was on.
Smith poured four shots from a mote the "Arkansas" on Wheels turned car while Dunkin answered with live pistol shots of his own.

Smith fired twice more with a rifle. Dunkin didn't answer — he was dead.

Since Thanksgiving eve, when the convict slipped away from prison in a truck, he had eluded police blocks and manhunt nets one after the other. His exploits, marked by fabulous luck and fool bravado, had harassed officers in five states — Nebraska, Missouri, Kansas, Indiana and Iowa.

From where I sit ... by Joe Marsh

A Good Pilot "Keeps His Feet on the Ground"

Buck Childs flew for the Navy, and after the war bought a light plane for crop-dusting. Now he's got another one — for passengers and hurry-up freight.

Saw him at the Post Office and remarked on his fine record. Said he must be a crack pilot to fly nearly all the time — in good weather or in some not-so-good without ever an accident.

Buck grinned. "Plenty of fellows around are as experienced as I am at flying. But I don't have accidents because I don't take chances.
I spend more time checking engines and equipment than I do in the air.

It's one business where you just can't let things slide."

From where I sit, there's no business where you can let things slide and still stay right up there. That's why the tavern owners, like Buck, spend a lot of time checking up — seeing to it that beer is sold in the right surroundings. They know when you "let things slide" you're due for an "unhappy landing."
